Introducing the MTS Vector Steel Base Communal Table that's right for every environment. When steel legs won't do, laminate can soften the scene. The MTS Vector Laminate Base Communal Table provides the same vectoring of legs and the framed geometry of open spaces as our steel version but now with a myriad of laminate finish options over a wood core base. Design possibilities abound, matching the top to the base, using contrasting laminates, or contrasting the top and base materials to suit your space.
